

RTZN904

5/8" ANCHORAGE CONNECTOR

This Ritz Fall Protection Anchorage Connector is a heavy-duty, high-strength connector designed for fall protection systems. It can be easily attached to a variety of anchor points. It is a reliable and cost-effective solution for workers who need to work at height, offering a high level of safety and durability for a wide range of applications.

FEATURES

- Made from high-strength steel
- Has a 5/8" diameter
- Can support a weight of 5000 lbs
- Zinc-plated finish for corrosion resistance
- Can be attached to a variety of anchor points, including concrete and steel structures
- Compact design ensures it does not interfere with other equipment or work
- Compliant with OSHA and ANSI standards for fall protection

TECH SPECS

Material	Steel
Diameter	5/8"
Min. Breaking Strength	5,000 lbs
Finish	Zinc-plated
Compliance	OSHA and ANSI standards for fall protection
Design	Compact design